Mission Statement

The mission of the TCNPT is to provide financial education in order to supply youth and adults with the tools needed for financial self empowerment. The long range goal of the TCNPT is to educate participants so that they can be catalysts for change to produce more prosperous communities. Emphasis is on three target areas; school age children, remedial education to adults who have limited financial management skills or who have experienced financial difficulties and adults who are striving for home ownership.

Your Community Advantage

Founded in 2005, the Telesis Community Non Profit Trust (TCNPT) was created to promote financial literacy and educational opportunities within our community. TCNPT works with many local schools providing support in a variety of programs including scholarships. Additionally, TCNPT works with community organizations that serve the underserved and provide an educational element as part of their program including battered women shelters and local community service centers; community service organizations like the Jaycees and Kiwanis; organizations serving the developmentally disabled; as well as many locations of the Boys and Girls Club, Girl Scouts and YMCA. Our programs and giving provide a financial commitment with an emphasis on partnership through volunteer service.
